SUPERVISORS A UNIT ON WEBB FRANCHISE

RESOLUTION PASSED PLEDGING
BRIDGE PERMIT; WEBB'S OWN
ATTORNEY BLAMED FOR DELAY; AWARD HOSPITAL CONTRACTS.

Whereas, Frank Elbridge Webb heretofore has applied to this board for authority to construct a toll bridge and for authority to maintain and operate the same, reference being made to his application for a description of the location, length and breadth of such bridge; and

Whereas, This board has heretofore asked the district attorney of said county for opinions and legal advice as to said application and all matters pertaining thereto and arising thereunder; and

Whereas, The said petitioner is desirous of having an expression from said board of supervisors as to its intention in said matter;

Now, therefore, be it Resolved: First—That said board expressly limits its declaration of intention to an expression to the effect that it will grant a franchise to said petitioner after a proper investigation of the same as to existing facts, practicability and legal phases involved.

Second—That with proper safeguards in the premises, said board intends to grant to the said petitioner authority to construct a toll bridge at the location and of the length and breadth requested.

Third—This, however, is a declaration of intention only as to the granting of a franchise, which franchise shall be subject to the conditions which said board may, after proper legal advice and investigation, deem necessary and proper for the protection of the rights of said county.

Be it further resolved that said board is agreeable to have and recommends that the district attorney may appoint a committee of three (3) attorneys from and of the county of San Mateo to advise with and assist the said district attorney in all matters pertaining to said application and any ordinance or orders which may be passed by said board in pursuance of said application, the county, however, not to be liable for any compensation for such attorneys by virtue of said appointment in any event except by virtue of a written contract entered into by said board of supervisors and each of said attorneys.

Be it further resolved that said petition be regularly set for hearing before said board for the 23d day of January, 1923, at which time said board will meet in executive session with said petitioner, his witnesses and his legal representatives.

Regularly ordered this 15th day of January, 1923.

C. V. THOMPSON, Chairman.
(Endorsed)
BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.
Filed January 15, 1923.
ELIZABETH M. NASH, Clerk.

Such was the resolution passed Monday by the San Mateo county supervisors after much discussion and the withdrawing of a somewhat similar resolution introduced by Supervisor Rosalie M. Brown. District Attorney Franklin Swart stated at the meeting that one reason for the repeated postponements of the bridge hearing was that Attorney W. H. Metson, who is representing Frank Elbridge Webb in the bridge matter, had failed to furnish certain information essential in formulating his (Swart's) legal advice to the board. It is felt that as Mr. Swart has stated he has already asked three attorneys for their assistance as set forth in the resolution, the matter will be settled and the franchise granted at next Monday's meeting of the board.

Having temporarily disposed of the bridge matter, the board proceeded to the regular order of business.

Bids were opened for the installing of a water supply at the new county hospital. A number of bids were received, the contract being awarded to M. Murphy of Berkeley, his figure for a concrete tower and steel tanks being $11,111.50. The county is to furnish necessary pipe.

City Attorney Davis of Burlingame, in behalf of the city trustees of Burlingame, asked authority to move one of Burlingame's south gates to a point on county property. The request was granted.

Bids on the installation of kitchen equipment at the new hospital were opened, and the contract awarded to the Montague Stove and Range Company, the figure being $5581.51.

NEW ORDINANCE DRAWS OUT CROWD

Proprietors of Soft Drink Saloons
Crowd Council Chamber as New Measure Gets Reading.

Much interest is felt among the sellers of liquid refreshments in the new city ordinance controlling their business, judging from the throng of proprietors of soft drink stores that crowded the room at Monday evening's meeting of the city trustees. The place was filled to capacity by soft drink merchants come to hear the first reading of the new ordinance. Because of the refusal of the city trustees to reissue soft drink licenses to many soft drink saloons in town they have been closed for some days, and their proprietors were anxious to learn when they would be allowed to reopen. As the new ordinance under which they will reopen has a provision calling for the deposit with the city of a bond for $500, a number of those present had come with the $500 in their pockets ready to put up on condition that they were allowed to reopen immediately, but these were doomed to disappointment, as it was the final decision of the board they would not be allowed to reopen until the new ordinance goes into effect, until that time, the $500 bond could not be accepted. This decision followed a discussion by the board members as to whether this one or that one had been selling liquor. This was brought to an abrupt close when Trustee A. J. Eschelbach exclaimed impatiently, "What's the use of kidding ourselves? We know they couldn't any of them make a living selling soft drinks!" City Marshal C. C. Conrad came out flatfootedly against the sale of liquor by stating that the officers had been laughed at heretofore, but that such ridicule was going to stop from now on, for the law is going to be enforced in this city. Mayor G. W. Holston took occasion to remind those in the audience who had had occasion to take out citizenship papers in this country that when they did so they swore to abide by the constitution and laws of the United States. "Prohibition is now a law in this country, and whether you or I like it or not it is the law and must be obeyed," declared Mr. Holston, adding that the Wright act made it compulsory on all local officers to enforce the ban on the sale of liquor, and it was going to be enforced in this city.

The new soft drink license then was given its first reading. It is an amendment to the present ordinance covering this business. Its main points are that it requires a bond of $500 from every person engaged in the sale of soft drinks, such bond to be forfeited if he be caught violating any of the provisions of the ordinance; that it restricts the transaction of the business of the establishment to one main room, eliminating side and rear rooms in connection; that it compels the putting of clear glass windows in the front or street side of the store; that street doors must be kept unlocked, and that it requires obedience to the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, known as the Volstead act, and to the Wright act.

Duane Wright made application at the meeting for a license to open a restaurant at 318 Grand avenue, where he has been conducting a soft drink place for some time. Mr. Wright stated the place was to be called the Saddlecock restaurant. He was informed that he could open a restaurant without a license.

Morris Koop made application for a poolroom license at 228 Grand avenue. This was held over for investigation.

Assunta Barsuglia asked for a building permit to construct a building for a cigar factory at 226 Lu street, but as this is out of the business district as recently laid out by ordinance, this matter was held over.

A complaint was received from the Spring Valley Water Company about the practice of dumping refuse around its main in the low land south of town, the burning of the rubbish there and the use of the adjoining ground as a road, stating it feared damage to its water main. Just what to do in this matter did not appear

From $12 Checker to President of Armour's

Thirty years ago F. Edson White, then a youth under 20 years of age, left his home near Peoria, Ill., and went to Chicago, where he found work as a checker in the stockyards of Armour & Co. at $12 a week. Shortly afterward he came to South San Francisco, where he lived during 1893 and 1894, working for the Western Meat Company. Recently White was elected president of Armour & Co., being the first person not a member of the Armour family to hold that position since 1862.

METAL AND THERMIT CORP. TO BUILD ROLLING MILL AT COST OF $2,000,000

Rumors that have been current for many months to the effect that the local plant of the Metal and Thermit Corporation was to be greatly enlarged were verified this week by the announcement that a $2,000,000 mill is to be added to the company's present plant.

The new plant is to be devoted to the rolling of sheet metal, and will occupy a site of fourteen acres recently purchased by the company and adjoining its present holdings of twelve acres on Swift avenue. The rolling mill, it is announced, will be the largest and finest plant of its kind in the entire West.

The detailed plans as to the new rolling mill are as yet being withheld by the officials of the Metal and Thermit Corporation, as they are not yet completed by the Pittsburgh engineers who are drafting them. That work on the new mill will undoubtedly start within the next month or so was the statement of E. W. Kardos, manager of the plant, to The Enterprise this morning. Mr. Kardos declared that when started the work will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

The new rolling mill to be constructed will have a product entirely distinct from that of the present plant, which produces approximately 25,000 tons of metal yearly from recovered steel and metal waste. The new mill is planned to produce 50,000 tons yearly of sheet metal.

FLOYD JOHNSON GIVEN DECISION OVER BRENNAN

Once more Floyd Johnson, South San Francisco boxer, who has had a career of sensational victories in New York City the last year, has taken the decision over a formidable antagonist, his victim this time being the redoubtable Bill Brennan of Chicago.

Johnson was given the decision after a fifteen-round bout with Brennan at Madison Square Garden last Friday.

The sport writers who attended the scrap were practically unanimous in saying that the fight was Johnson's from the first, but all were equally a unit in stating that both fighters were a disappointment in the showing made.

It has been announced that Johnson will now be matched against Tom Gibbons, probably the most formidable man in the business outside of Jack Dempsey himself. Sporting critics are saying that Johnson's manager is pushing him forward too fast and that Gibbons will prove more than his match, but this remains to be seen. Johnson's friends believe him the equal of any heavyweight, including Dempsey. At any rate, they are not slow in saying that he will be fit to meet Dempsey with a very few more months' experience.

His match with Gibbons will be held at Madison Square Garden in March.

PRETTY GIRL SUES COLMA GARAGE OWNER

Dorothea Koch, a pretty 22-year-old girl, who claims to have been formerly connected with the Winter Garden Revue, has brought sensational charges against Lee Herbert, a garageman of Colma, asking $25,000 damages. Miss Koch claims Herbert, in the role of caveman lover, kept her captive in a hotel suite for two weeks and threatened to send her to prison for the theft of a diamond ring if she refused to marry him. Herbert denies the charges and claims the suit a mere attempt at extortion. Sensational charges and counter-charges are features of the controversy between the two, which will be aired in the San Francisco courts.

MAN BELIEVED HART BANDIT ARRESTED IN EUREKA

William Henry Harris, arrested in Eureka as a suspect in the famous burglary of the home of Julian Hart at Menlo Park, will be brought to Redwood City by a deputy from the office of Sheriff H. W. Lampkin, where news of the capture of Harris was received by telegraph Monday afternoon.

Felony warrants for the holding of Harris on charges of robbery and burglary will be taken to Eureka by the officer who returns Harris to the San Mateo county jail.

The arrest was made when the suspect was recognized from pictures and descriptions sent out by the sheriff's office last March. Harris is said to have refused to make a statement regarding his alleged part in the robbery of the Hart home, in which more than $25,000 in liquor and silverware was carried away by a party of men using three automobiles.

The Hart household was held captive in the palatial home during the night, while the bandits made merry with the contents of the wine cellar, property of George W. McNear, from whom the premises were leased by Hart.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS WHIST PARTY SOON

The local Woman's Club is planning to give a whist party for the benefit of its club house fund. The party will be held the evening of January 25th at Metropolitan Hall. A number of prizes will be given and refreshments will be served.

TWO BIG QUESTIONS

Jesus told His disciples they should do greater works than He did. Has His promise been realized? And if so, how? Mr. Beall will answer this question next Sunday morning in his sermon in St. Paul's M. E. Church. In the evening he will tell whether Jesus is the supreme and only Saviour. The public invited to hear these discussions.

Concentration is the life of work.

MERCHANTS TO OFFER MANY FINE PRIZES

Plans Being Made to Entertain Record
Gathering at Annual Whist Party to Be Held January 31st.

Wednesday, January 31st, has been set by the South San Francisco Merchants' Association as the date for its annual whist party. The party held in January last year was successful beyond the hopes of those who worked for it, and it is freely predicted that this year's affair will be bigger in every way.

The whist party will be held at Metropolitan Hall. An imposing array of prizes has been contributed by the members of the association and more prizes are each day being added to the list. These prizes will be placed on display in some store window within a few days. Before the party is held there will be many other prizes added, but at present it is as follows:

H. A. Cavassa, $100 phonograph
A. T. Arndt, $75 complete man's outfit of clothing
Joe Greenberg, $25 silk comforter
Charles Guidi, $25 overcoat
S. Nieri, two velvet rugs
The Enterprise, $15 cabinet of stationery
Charles Schurk, electric lamp
Fred Lautze, auto tire
Santini & Rocucci, pair of shoes
Charles Bollazzi, box of imported Italian paste
Vette & Thatcher, box of cigars
Frank Giffra, box of apples
H. Scampini, box of cigars
Poppy Confectionery, two boxes candy
J. Eikenkotter, box of candy
C. T. Connelly, box of cigars
Viani & Tanti, pair of shoes
W. Ottenfield, cake

JUDGE CUNNINGHAM HAS DRUNKS IN HIS COURT

C. W. Johnson, H. Hagen, Harry Cole, Gus Swift and John Tomblinson were all up in Judge E. E. Cunningham's city court early this week on charges of drunkenness. All but Tomblinson got fines of $10 each. Tomblinson is an old offender and was given thirty days in jail to think matters over. J. L. Hickey, who drove his car recklessly around town, was given a fine of $30. Hickey admitted having imbibed too freely, but because he was known to be ordinarily sober and hard-working he was fined for reckless driving instead of having the more serious charge of driving while drunk lodged against him.

Judge Cunningham told the culprits that from now on a first appearance in his court for drunkenness would mean a fine of $10, a second appearance $25, and that the fine would be raised for each offense. "If you insist on getting drunk, you are from now on going to help pay the expense of the police department of this city," said the judge.

MRS. D. HUNTINGTON GIVEN SURPRISE PARTY

A surprise party was given to Mrs. D. Huntington at her home on Lux avenue last Saturday night. An enjoyable evening was spent singing, dancing and playing games. Refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Al Welte Jr., Mr. and Mrs. T. Maderes, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Woods, Mrs. Mabel Triguirio, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bollari, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Duffy, Mr. and Mrs. Mercks, Mr. and Mrs. W. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ringue Jr., George Quinlan, Irene Pierce, Phoebe Raudebaugh, Sylvia Holbrook, Gertrude Welte, Fanny Lawfer, Lena Borelli, Louise Borelli, Joe Welte, Stephen Fischer, Rex Allen, Roger Wilson, Jack Wilson, Charles Crasper, Grace Steele, and Mrs. A. Welte Sr.

JUDGE FARRELL GETS WRITE-UP IN DAILY NEWS

Edward Farrell, who was elected justice of the peace at the last election, was given a write-up in the Daily News of San Francisco recently when he took the oath of office. The story was accompanied by a picture of Farrell, showing him in his "working clothes" as an engineer of the South San Francisco Belt Line railroad, a place he held for twenty-six years. Farrell is now holding court in the court room of E. E. Cunningham, city recorder, and has announced he will also hold court in San Bruno.

CIRCULATION CAMPAIGN OPENS

THE ENTERPRISE TO GIVE RICH ARRAY OF PRIZES TO THOSE WHO WILL SPEND A SHORT TIME IN ITS SERVICE.

Another one of those great opportunities similar to those heretofore offered by The Enterprise is announced today. This is the greatest offer ever made by this paper and one which is seldom equaled by any newspapers outside the great metropolitan centers, as this time all the prizes will be awarded the people living in South San Francisco and immediate vicinity.

More than $2000.00 in prizes and cash commissions will be given away Wednesday, March 17th, at 7 p. m.

This will be done in the form of a Travel Club and members are eligible to win any of the prizes.

The Enterprise believes that the people of South San Francisco will appreciate the liberality in offering this opportunity, and in planning the campaign the universal desire to own a car or to secure a new car centered upon an automobile as the most desirable prize. Hence the first prize will be either a sports model of a well-known make of touring car or a sedan. Next week complete details and description of the car will be published.

The desire to travel is, with some people, even greater than the wish to own a car, so the second prize which The Enterprise is offering will be a trip to Honolulu with all expenses paid for practically one month. The winner of this prize may take the trip at any time that is convenient. Hawaii, theme of captivating lullabies, luring rhymes and romantic tales; the land of everlasting summer, flaming sunsets and seas of jade, is not the elusive, far-away country to be sighed for but never seen, but on the contrary lies at your very door, if you take advantage of the offer now made you by The Enterprise.

The third prize will be a trip to Los Angeles with all expenses paid. This trip will be made over the famous Southern Pacific Coast Line Route, and will afford the winner ample opportunity of seeing the beauties of southern California.

Another prize will be a $109 Columbia gramophone. This prize is now on display at Jennings' Pharmacy, 241 Grand avenue. Go into that store and have Mr. Jennings show it to you. The Columbia is one of the best types of gramophones on the market, and dealers say they have fewer complaints of the gramophone than any other kind of talking machine.

Still another prize to be given is a mahogany floor lamp with a wonderful blue and gold silk shade, lined with rose silk. This is a very beautiful lamp and a prize any one will be proud to win.

This lamp is on display at the South San Francisco Furniture Company, 349 Grand avenue, and is valued at $40. Mr. Nieri will take pleasure in showing the lamp.

A most desirable prize in the list is a $25 savings account in the Bank of South San Francisco. One of our greatest financiers once said that no matter how small a man's salary, unless he could save a little of it each month he would never be a success. The winner of this prize will have the opportunity to begin his success with a neat sum to his credit in one of the greatest institutions in South San Francisco.

Something New

This is a circulation campaign on a new plan. A plan in which every one wins. That sounds good, doesn't it? Positively every one who joins this club will be paid well for his or her time. We are going to give away some fine prizes and you can win one of them. But remember this: We are going to pay you for the work you do in case you do not have enough time to devote to the work to win a

Free Receipt Books

Any one who wishes to join the Travel Club may come to The Enterprise office and secure free receipt books. The Travel Club manager will explain all about them and the best way to get points and will assist all the club members in every way that is fair.

No one will be allowed to cast more than 10,000 points ahead of another until after January 25th; 20,000 points until after February 1st, or 30,000 points until after February 15th, or 50,000 points until after March 17th when all points will be published.

This does not mean these amounts from one subscriber, but enough subscriptions from different people to total any of the above amounts. This offer will close at 6 o'clock Saturday January 27th, and will not be repeated.

WHEN WILL IT BE DONE?

When will that dangerous stretch of highway between Colma and the Masonic Cemetery have safeguards installed? The California Auto Association has declared it the most dangerous place on any part of the state system of highways in the bay region. The Enterprise has called attention to the terrible danger to life at this point time and again. The supervisors have agreed it is a bad and dangerous place. A long list of deaths from collisions between autos and street cars on this stretch of highway attests its danger. Everybody agrees that it is dangerous—and nothing is done about it. What is needed to start action, another death or two? They are liable to occur any day and especially any night.

All that is needed to eliminate the danger is a high curb or a fence. The street car tracks come to within two feet of the paving in places along this section of highway and both are exactly at a level. The consequence is that at night or in a fog any person is liable to drive directly on the track in front of a street car at any one of several curves.

Furthermore, any rainy or foggy day when the pavement is wet, any machine is liable to skid off the pavement and on the track. Both these things have happened several times with loss of life and destruction of property following. And still nothing is done.

If the street car company should build a fence, why not force it to do so without further delay? If the county should or even can build the safeguard, why not do so and prevent further deaths? If the highway commission should do it, why doesn't it get busy?

Probably in reply to this editorial The Enterprise will be informed that "something will be done soon" or "we're getting along with this matter as fast as possible," and we're going to say that we're sick unto death with such remarks. Where a menace to life exists, why let red tape or the cumbersome of political machinery stand in the way? At any day or any hour while street cars and autos pass over the track and highway at this point lives are in terrible danger. Whoever should pay the cost, the county supervisors can force the remedy. Then why don't they do so?

CARELESSNESS IS COSTLY

Insurance losses throughout the United States cannot be lowered until this country finds a way of reducing the excessive number of fires, 95 per cent of which are due to carelessness, according to J. H. Shiveley, secretary of the Insurance Federation of San Francisco and a former state insurance commissioner for Washington.

Mr. Shiveley points out that every law passed to correct fire losses in the various state legislatures has penalized the insurance companies instead of aiming at a reduction of fire risks.

"To illustrate," said Mr. Shiveley, "the state of California realizes more out of the underwriting profits of the insurance companies than the companies do themselves, in the regulation of the companies.

"We burn up nineteen times more property in the United States than they do in Europe and the cost of fire indemnity in this country is $4.50, as against 35 cents in Europe."

Insurance rates are the measurement of the fire hazards and the policy holder is responsible for these rates because of the fire waste.

KILLING THE GOOSE

Everybody seems to be going crazy on the subject of taxing gasoline to build roads. The sums vary in amount from 1 cent a gallon to a proposed 5 cents a gallon in the state of Oregon, where motorists are already paying a tax of 2 cents a gallon.

It is true that automobiles benefit greatly by good roads, but they do not benefit one-tenth as much as adjoining property or the state as a whole, which through a good road system attracts thousands of tourists who would never otherwise enter the state.

It is entirely possible that before the year has passed we will see a proposal to tax every tire sold from $1 to $5 or a proposal to add a sales tax of some $5 to $25 on every automobile sold in addition to the state license tax.

The field for taxing the automobile and oil industry seems to be unlimited, but like all other propositions which are carried to excess, the aim sought to be accomplished will be defeated by the drastic methods applied.

What motorist would care to tour in a state that had the reputation of charging a tax of 5 cents a gallon on gasoline? While the total amount he might pay would be small, the average man hates to be held up and will steer clear of a holdup proposition.—The Manufacturer.

Be wary of the young lady who is sad and dispirited. It may be only a means to the end.

Too Much Competition

A SOUVENIR

I found them in a book last night,
These withered violets,
A token of that early love
That no man e'er forgets.
Pressed carefully between the leaves,
They keep their color still,
I cannot look at them today
Without an old-time thrill.

Ah, me, what tricks does memory play!

The passing years have fled
And hopes that lived in vigor once,
Alas! have long been dead.
And this is all that I can say,
When all is said and done,
Those flowers remind me of some girl—
I wish I knew which one!—Anon.

HOME HABITS

HAVE YOU SENT US A "HOME HABIT" LATELY? IF NOT—WHY NOT—WE WILL PRINT IT—HERE'S ONE J. BARTH OMMA SENT—MY WIFE CHEERS WHEN I PRACTICE MY LOOSE SPEECHES AT HOME—

Richard Lloyd Jones Says

PLAY WELL YOUR PART

BEHOLD the movie play. How daringly the actor does his part with but the eye of the camera to see. It memorizes his movements but it does not applaud his act or bring him back with encore. Headlong the players plunge over precipices, bound they lie before the thundering locomotive, wildly they cling to the mane of the maddened horse. They do it with a philosophy that counts it all in the day's work.

The small stage star twinkles in the limelight of sumptuousness and feeds on contented adulation. The player in the out of doors serves art without the stimulation of an audience's admiration.

All credit to the movie players. They take whatever part the scenario provides and perform before the one-eyed auditor in a soldierlike way. Would that we could borrow a bit of their soldiery and infuse it into everyday living.

Would we could live the philosopher who said, "Act well your part, there all honor lies."

So many of us grumble and whine through all our days because we are not cast in the star's part. We object to playing second fiddle. We lack the wisdom to take in the whole drama, to see the beauty of the humble parts, to know that the fair lady-a-glitter with jewels is not invariably the leading lady, that sometimes the poor Goose Girl who never has a chance even to get into a clean frock has the part to be coveted.

In Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" the great actors would not play the part of the martyred emperor. Rather would they play Brutus or the civilian orator Anthony. In "The Merchant of Venice" they would not play the merchant, but choose to be Shylock, the tortured, humble Jew. It is his speech and crass costumes that give them opportunity for character delineation.

Wise is the man who can look deep enough into his life to see that the stage setting is worth but little. It is the way we do our part that counts.

"Give the marshal stage center," said the great Henry Irving when rehearsing "Robespierre." "I can be seen on the side."

The wise man seeks glory in opportunity. Great generals do not look for easy battles. It is the difficult things that they seek to conquer. They seek to break the strength of the foe.

Every difficulty conquered is a source of joy and pride after the stress of the struggle is over.

Where is the pioneer who has not gloried in the little red school house, the symbol of the frontiersman's battle for betterment?

Hard time experiences are always the most enjoyable conversation in the comfort of after-dinner company among men who have really known what it is to rest from battle. It is pleasant to them to contemplate that they have triumphed with the strength that came from resisting. The man who never had to do anything never has anything to tell.

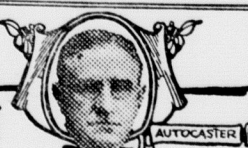

It's the ne'er-do-well who has to lean upon the stories of what he is going to do, never what he has done.

The fellow who whines for an easy life, who is sure he could hold a big job if only he had the right sort of introduction, and who is too good to play unless he can play in the spotlight may clamor for applause but he stands a slim chance of getting it. Applause goes to the fellow whose work deserves it, not the fellow who is waiting for it.

The appetite for applause is an early evidence of weakness. Big men do not mind the opinions of their contemporaries. They are too busy minding their business.

by UNCLE JOHN

I recollect the overshoes my Aunt Malindy wore. . . . The kind that used to last her maybe seven year or more. . . . They buckled up as tight as wax, fer keepin' out the snow,—we likened Aunt Malindy's tracks to maps of Mexico. . . . There weren't no moisture filtered through, when Aunt Ma-

Ancient and Modern lindy strode across the fields to Centerville, or up the county road. We'd allers hear her comin' long before she landed there, for the overshoes was real, that our auntie used to wear. . . . an' when she firmly kicked the mud, from off their spacious soles, the pups would start to barkin' and the rats would hunt their holes!

Now, . . . Ethyl Maude has got a pair,—or maybe it's a set,—she wears 'em nearly everywhere, whenever walks is wet. . . . A pair of rubber nipples, mounted on her dainty toes, and a crupper back around the heel, to keep 'em on, I s'pose. . . . Sech little hangin' baskets ain't built fer snow or floods, but they look about as plenty as Ethyl's other duds. . . . It may be they're as healthy as the big, old-fashioned sort, but if Aunt Malindy seen 'em, you'd be apt to hear a snort!

Yr. own Uncle John.

NOW is the time for all our philosophers to get busy an' philos. Who's smilin' because the income tax blanks are out again? Everybody's gettin' the best of it. Here we are sittin' around the table in a friendly game an' we've got to have a kitty. Every cent spent for ourselves share an' share alike. The fellow that can't chip in much isn't asked to, an' the chap that's had luck in the game drops in quite a pile. Seems as if it was a bit mean for the little fellow or the big fellow to dodge the ante. Suppose we fixed it so that everyone had to chip in the same amount before he could sit in. That would be fair enough, wouldn't it? Boy, the little fellow that's left off lightly ought to smile and the tightwad that's hit hard should smile, too. He's hit the ball an' won the cigars ahead of the game. Pay up an' cheer up, an' if you want to win the next pot study the game an' play it square.

THE MAN WHO STICKS

The man who sticks has his lesson learned; Success does not come by chance—it's earned By pounding away; for good, hard knocks Will make stepping stones of the stumbling blocks. He does not expect by a single stride To jump to the front; he is satisfied To do every day his level best And let the future take care of the rest. For the man who sticks has the sense to see He can make himself what he wants to be If he'll off with his coat and pitch right in. Why? Because the man who sticks can't help but win!—Exchange.

SAN BRUNO

The whole Platts family of Millbrae is down with a mild attack of the flu.

Contractor Frank Valentine this week commenced work on a new cottage on Kains avenue in First Addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Sansevain, occupying the Berg home in Huntington Park, will move to Los Angeles the first of next month.

As soon as the weather becomes more settled, Raymond Wackermann will build a bungalow on his newly acquired lots in Fourth Addition.

After being confined to her room for several weeks as a result of a siege of pneumonia, Mrs. P. Baxter of Third Addition is again able to be up and about.

On Monday the stork visited the family of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bolander of Fourth Addition, leaving a little baby girl. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Lewis Wackermann of Fourth Addition is making preparations for the erection of an attractive bungalow on his lots on the highway in Third Addition.

Justice of the Peace Edward Farrell of South San Francisco was in our midst Tuesday, making arrangements to hold court here regularly Mondays and Thursdays.

Mrs. Bolander of Sacramento valley, who has been visiting with the family of her son, Earl Bolander of Fourth Addition, the past fortnight, expects to return to her home the end of the week.

Judging by the activity shown by the new realty promoters who took over the holdings of the Huntington Realty Company here, there will be things doing in San Bruno this year. Keep your eye on San Bruno!

The aged mother of our fellow townsman George Reed of Third Addition, living in San Francisco, recently suffered a light stroke of paralysis, from which she is slowly recovering, according to report.

According to a recent ruling of the local athletic board only such members of organizations as belong to the association may participate in regularly scheduled basketball games who live within the San Bruno-Millbrae district. As a result of this ruling, the Bluebirds have dropped from the scene of winter sports.

Now is the time and San Bruno is the place to buy your home at a reasonable price, away from the fog, yet near to the city. We have large and small houses, furnished and unfurnished, at prices and terms to suit; also lots at a bargain. Call and be convinced. It costs nothing to investigate. Wm. Maurer, real estate and insurance, San Bruno, Calif.—Adv.

The whist party Saturday evening of this week at California Hall by the Northbrae P. T. A. for the purpose of raising funds to establish a free dental clinic for our school children should receive the unqualified support of all residents of the community. If you can not go or do not care to play whist, you can buy a ticket just the same and thus do your little bit toward a good cause. It's money well spent.

In view of the fact that weeds, willows and unclean sidewalks in various sections of the community give our city an untidy appearance and evoke much adverse comment, the correspondent of The Enterprise would suggest that a general clean-up campaign throughout the coming month of February be inaugurated. Let's organize into districts, and let everybody get busy with ax, shovel or hoe and do some real "housecleaning." Less talk and more deeds, and you'll be agreeably surprised at the results! We'll have a nice, neat, attractive town. The traveling public motoring by will quickly take note of this, and soon will be saying all kinds of nice things of San Bruno

ORDINANCE NO. 118.

An Ordinance of the City of South San Francisco Creating the Office of Building Inspector, Prescribing His Duties and Providing for the Issuance of Building Permits.

The Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco do ordain as follows:

Section 1. There is hereby created the office of building inspector.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the building inspector to inspect all buildings during the course of construction thereof and all alterations or additions to and repairs upon all buildings during the time such alterations, additions or repairs are being made. The building inspector shall see that all laws of the State of California and ordinances of the City of South San Francisco pertaining to the construction, alteration or, addition to and repair of buildings, excepting ordinances of said City of South San Francisco regulating the installation of plumbing and electrical wires and fixtures, are strictly enforced. For this purpose said building inspector shall have free access at all reasonable hours to all buildings embraced herein.

Section 3. No person, firm or corporation shall erect a building or structure of any kind, remodel or enlarge, add to or extend any building or structure already erected within the City of South San Francisco without first obtaining a permit therefor. Where territory within the fire limits, as established by Ordinance No. 112 of said City of South San Francisco, passed and adopted on the 8th day of August, 1921, is involved, the permit shall be obtained from the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco. In all other cases the permit shall be obtained from the building inspector.

Section 4. The application of such permit shall state the exact site to be occupied, the material, dimensions and estimated cost of the proposed building or structure. A copy of the plans for such work shall be filed with the building inspector. Where repairs or alterations are to be made to any existing structures, said Board of Trustees or building inspector, as the case may be, may permit the applicant to file a statement in writing setting forth what repairs or alterations or additions are contemplated, and describing the general character, nature and extent of the same.

Section 5. When the work of construction, reconstruction, alteration or repair, for which permission shall have been given, has been completed, and conforming with law, the building inspector shall issue his certificate to that effect.

Section 6. The building inspector shall keep a record of all building permits and certificates issued under this ordinance.

Section 7. The building inspector shall receive for his services a sum of money equal to Two Dollars ($2.00) for each One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) or fraction thereof, of the estimated cost of the construction, reconstruction, alteration or repair herein provided for, where such cost exceeds One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) and shall retain all fees for his own use. All inspection fees shall be paid in advance.

Section 8. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, tenant, lessee, lessor, or occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, or add to any building, or cause, permit or suffer any building to be erected, constructed, altered, built upon or added to contrary to the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 9. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) and not exceeding Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00), or by imprisonment for a period of not more than thirty (30) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 10. This ordinance shall be published once in "The Enterprise", a weekly newspaper printed, published and circulated in the City of South San Francisco, and shall take effect and be in force from and after the expiration of thirty (30) days after the date of its passage.

Introduced this 2nd day of January, 1923.
Passed and adopted as an ordinance of the City of South San Francisco at a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco this 15th day of January, 1923, by the following vote:

Ayes, Trustees F. A. Cunningham, A. J. Eschelbach, H. Scampini, G. W. Holston, Trustees none.
Absent, Trustee J. W. Pitt.
Approved: G. W. HOLSTON,
President of the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco.
Attest:
[Seal] DANIEL McSWERNEY,
1-18-11 City Clerk.

Here's a Novelty in Warfare Implements

The "land battleship," invented by Walter Christie, president of the War Department Motor Ordnance company, went from Hoboken, N. J., to New York and paraded up Fifth avenue and Riverside drive. This remarkable new invention—its official name is a "75-millimeter field gun carriage equipped for road, field and water service"—was taken over to Interstate park to give a demonstration before the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The tank crossed the river on a ferry and then tractors were slipped under the conveyance and the machine rolled up a steep hill and even steeper knoll, turned around and plunged into the Hudson river and crossed over to New York. The illustration shows it on land and water.

THE LEGEND OF FATHER SUN

WHEN the Navajos came up out of the world of twilight into the world of sunshine and light they were very happy, and with one accord they fell on their knees and made sacrifice to the Father Sun who brightened the heavens and made the world warm and comfortable for the tribesmen.

When they had become settled in their new world and had builded their homes and made their fires, then they planted their crops in order that they might live in comfort. Round about them they planted golden maize, and grain and many foods. Their flocks they took into the green fields to eat of the grass, and their horses and their cattle they turned loose to roam in the beautiful valley where they had come.

But as the days went on the crops failed, and the grass turned brown and the streams dried up and the Navajos were much perturbed, for they knew not what to do. For the sun, sweeping through the sky, had come close to earth, and the heat, which at first had seemed pleasant, became unbearable—and even the tribesmen themselves were made sick by the brightness of its rays. Many there were among the tribesmen who wished themselves back in the world of twilight, but the road had been closed and only a great mountain remained to mark where the roadway had been.

As the summer came on many of the tribesmen became sick unto death, for the heat was terrific—but there was no place to go and no place to turn, for all the world was a vast desert, burned by the rays of the Father Sun.

As matters became worse and worse the tribesmen became desperate and finally, one day, called a great council of the chief and the head men and the witch doctors. For ten days and ten nights these men sat in solemn conclave to determine what best might be done to relieve their oppressed people.

Finally, at the end of the ten days and the ten nights they called the tribe together, and the whole tribe, even the women and the children, went to the top of a high hill and there they built altars and offered up sacrifices, and prayed to the Father Sun that he might move back into the heaven so his rays would not be so hot.

When they had prayed for a long time then the Father Sun sent down to them a lesser god from the sky, and the lesser god came up to the chiefs and the medicine men and told them that the sun had heard their prayer.

"And so long as you remain faithful to the Father Sun, who provides you with heat and with light, so long will he protect you," the messenger said. "And when another day comes then will the sun move back in the heavens and the grass will grow green, and water will flow through the streams, and flowers will bloom, and the land will be a land of happiness and prosperity for the Navajos."

When he had finished speaking the messenger disappeared in a great cloud and the people marveled much and fell on their faces and gave thanks.

When another day came it was as the messenger had said, for the sun had moved back into the sky, and the air was cool and the trees grew leaves and the corn sprouted and flowers bloomed and the world was a world of happiness.

So it has been to this day. And the sun who is the father who protects the Navajos, has ever warmed the earth with his rays and caused the corn to grow and the flowers to bloom.

Nor have the Navajos forgotten the promise they made many years ago, on the great hilltop, when the world was young. Each morning when they arise they face toward the east and give thanks to the Father Sun who gives them warmth and light, and each night they face toward the west and give thanks for the day that has gone.

Here in our village, if you will look, you will see that every house faces the east and each morning we are awakened by the early rays of the sun which come in through the doors and the windows—for that is as it should be, and even as it was promised by the great chiefs ages and ages ago when the Navajos came out of the world of twilight, into the world of sunshine and light.

Note—To this day the Navajo tribes of Arizona and New Mexico continue to build their houses facing the east. Even in the large villages the homes are built on one side of the street only, in order that the time-honored tradition may not be broken.

Old Fashioned.

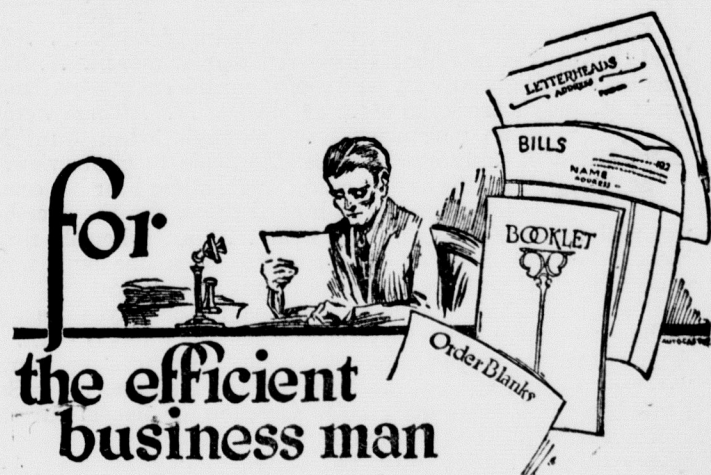

"Betty is such a conscientious little goose," said one summer girl to another. "She thinks she must go to the trouble of breaking one engagement before contracting another."—Boston Transcript.

NOTICE TO AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

Fifty cents out of every dollar paid by automobile and motor vehicle owners for licenses is apportioned by the State to the counties from which the cars are registered to be used in maintaining roads.

In San Mateo County there are peculiar conditions, due to the fact that many whose homes are here spend a portion of the year in San Francisco; many residents of the county have San Francisco offices; residents of Daly City receive their mail through the San Francisco postoffice, and residents of some of the southern sections receive their mail through postoffices in Santa Clara County.

Thus a large amount of money justly belonging to San Mateo County for road maintenance is apportioned to other counties because the automobiles are registered from outside postoffice addresses or city homes or offices.

When applying for your license for 1923, BE SURE TO REGISTER YOUR AUTOMOBILE FROM SAN MATEO COUNTY, where the money justly belongs and where it is needed for road maintenance.

AFRICA'S GOLD COAST

One of the Peculiar Buttressed Trees of Torrid Africa.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)
Commodities have left their names in the geography of western Africa in ascending scale. First came the Ivory Coast, followed by the Gold Coast and Slave Coast. Now that the age of coal is being threatened by the growing importance of liquid fuels, the Gold Coast, where important petroleum discoveries were recently reported, may take on a name that denotes a value surpassing all the rest—the Oil Coast.

Columbus is believed to have done some of his apprentice exploring along the Gold Coast shores before he set sail for America and many an emancipated slave of our southland could find his family tree among the natives of this British colony. The colony lies "under the eaves" of Africa, with the Gulf of Guinea due south of it. The golden age of the Gold Coast, commercially considered, was in the days of flourishing slave trade, and the oil fields promise again to outbuy the entire product of the gold grains winnowed from the sands of the many rivers of this region.

When you read that three-fourths of the colony is covered with thick forests you get a very inadequate idea of what you would see could you look upon the amazing fastnesses of Bom-bax trees, piercing the skyline at a hundred feet, with columnar trunks, free from branches below the top quarter length. The trees you know best at home are like icebergs in that their bases, or root systems, are under the surface. These foreign giants remind you of your children's Christmas tree, buttressed by what look to be huge triangular supports. Should you dig beneath one of these buttresses you would find tiny tendrils, such as those which might nourish a sapling. In the spaces between these buttresses natives sometimes pitch primitive tents.

The impression of a forest of telephone poles is further conveyed by great cables sagging from tree to tree. These "creepers" are popularly known as monkey-rope, appropriately enough, since many varieties of monkeys are to be found in these forests.

The Gold Coast colony stretches along some 270 miles of harborless coast, and extends back for about half that distance to the border of Ashanti. Its government seat, Accra, which escapes by only a few degrees of having both a latitude and longitude of zero, is reputed to be especially unhealthy. The entire region is hot and damp, has two rainy seasons, and is swept by that peculiarly dust-laden Sahara wind, the harmattan.

Along this coast lies Kormantien, famous as the place where slaves first were exported, which gave the name, Kormantynes, to the West Indies slaves from the region.

Of the estimated population of a million, fewer than 2,000 are Europeans. The most noted of the native peoples are the Fanti, whose women of light brown skin are pretty. Their favorite perfume is distilled from the excrement of snakes. Shark flesh, sun dried, is a favorite edible. Among them, as among many primitive fighting peoples, mothers are held in high esteem. Property is inherited by the oldest son of the oldest sister. Land is held in a communal fashion, the possession of a gold "stool" being the badge of a chief's authority to the lands over which he holds sway. Areas are assigned to families but they revert to the community upon the holder's death.

Trees, plants, animals, snakes and insects are found in amazing variety. Here, as in many other verdant tropical regions, flowers are not nearly so abundant. The animate curiosity of the Gold Coast is the driver-ant, which also constitutes its worst pest. The driver-ants constitute the stranding army of the insect world. They have a system of caste and rank, and the naturalist gravely tells that the workers are a quarter of an inch long, the soldiers about half an inch, while the stately officers reach seven-eighths of an inch.

Results of the World War.

As a result of the World war, Great Britain added to her Gold Coast colony an area of about 12,500 square miles which was formerly part of German Togoland. A portion twice as large went to France. The new British addition to the Gold Coast lies along the eastern border and stretches away in the shape of a lens far to the north.

Germany annexed Togoland in 1884, the year she launched upon her colonial expansion with the acquisition also of northeastern New Guinea and the Bismarck archipelago. Togoland was the first colony to dispense with imperial subsidy.

Along the seacoast Togoland's soil is rich and sandy, its climate warm and moist. The hinterland is higher, wooded and drier, but seldom arid. Thus the land is adapted to a wide variety of products, among which the growing of coconuts, corn, rice, tobacco and coffee already has been highly successful. The exports include considerable quantities of ivory, kernels, copra, palm oil and rubber.

This colony affords a commentary upon Germany's application of bureaucratic methods to her possessions. Despite heavy German emigration to the United States and South America, and despite her effort to divert this flow to her colonies, only about 300 Germans were to be found among the million natives of Togoland in 1910. Most of the 300 were engaged in government service, either in the coast cities of Lome, a made-to-order town which Germany planted on the site of a fishing village, and little Popo, or the inland government stations at Misahohe or Bismarckburg.

Togoland, too, was along the famous Slave Coast of Africa.

About the Dahomeys.

The Dahomeys, natives of the south, present a curious blend of shrewdness, cruelty, and superstition. Small, robust and athletic, they climb trees like monkeys, easily become fluent linguists, but cling to fetishism and still practice cannibalism.

The king of the Dahomeys is a tribal deity. He controls the lives and property of his subjects. Formerly he was regarded as more ethereal than human; he was believed to require neither food nor sleep. He strengthened that impression by having all food served to him in solitude, and hearing petitions from behind a screen. Consultation with his ministers was carried on through his wives, who were state dignitaries. Genuine Amazons formed his bodyguard, and these warrior women were reputed to be as fearless and brave as those of Greek mythology, and much more cruel.

Only the sons of the dada, or queen, were regarded as heirs. From among the Amazons the sovereign selected other wives, but all except the favored few were celibates. The king was considered the father of all his subjects. Children were taken from their mothers at an early age and given to other families so they might form no ties which would conflict with their allegiance to the king.

STUDENT BODY MEETING

The regular meeting of the student body was held Monday, January 15th. Miss Clifford gave a report on the G. P. A. L. meeting held at Redwood City, Saturday, January 13th. The following things were discussed: The hockey committee reported that schedule was completed and the extra game between South City and San Mateo dropped, by mutual consent, because delayed so long beyond scheduled time. The G. P. A. L. became a member of the National Women's Track Athletic Association. A contest essay on "Good Sportsmanship," open to all girls in the G. P. A. L., will be closed April 1st, and three medals are to be awarded to the three best compositions. Richmond high was invited to take a part in the sectional track meet.

It was decided that our school give a play. A committee was appointed to pick out a play. Miss Clifford (chairman), Lillah Brown, Ambrose Aylsworth, Mr. Weller and Althea Spangler. There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

BASKET-BALL GAME

The 125-pound basket-ball team left at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday to play a game with Halfmoon Bay.

The bus which the school had hired broke down about eight miles from Halfmoon Bay, and we were obliged to wait for the next bus to pick us up.

A very hard game was fought, South City making the first goal.

Bernice Farrell refereed the game, which ended with a score of 11-16 in Halfmoon Bay's favor.

A supper was served, which was fully appreciated by our girls after the long ride and hard game.

SOUTH CITY VS. SAN MATEO

The South City high school 125-pound girls' basket-ball team played its third G. P. A. L. game last Friday with San Mateo on their (San Mateo's) court.

Miss O'Neill of San Jose refereed the game.

At the beginning of the last quarter the score was 7-1 in San Mateo's favor, but our girls fought hard and brought the score up to 7-3.

San Mateo gave us a supper after the game. The girls of both teams gave yells and speeches were made by the coaches.

Next Friday, January 19th, our last P. A. L. game will be played with Redwood City on our court.

AWARDS

The typing students have been making steady progress each month, as there have been been forty-one awards given to the students since last September.

The following have received gold medals, card cases and certificates for the month of December, given by the Remington Company: Gold medals—Sylvia Thomas and Annie Lawler, 55 words per minute. Card cases—Jennie Aiello, 53 words per minute, and Beula O'Rourke, 49. Certificates—Eleanor Hynding, 36; Alexis James, 33, and Teresa Pariani, 34.

SOUTH CITY VS. SAN JOSE

South City's unlimited and 130-pound basket-ball teams played the San Jose high school team last Friday. Our teams were defeated because of not being accustomed to such a large court.

Our 130-pound team played first, and for a while it looked as though they would win.

Elton McGraw's playing was the outstanding feature of the game. The final score was 24-6 in favor of San Jose.

The following boys played: McGraw and Wallace (forwards), C. Dunlap and T. Doak (guards), Robinson (center), Tocci (forward) and Burge (guard).

Unlimited Game (San Jose-S. S. F.)

The unlimited game that followed showed that the San Jose team was not only victorious but superior to our team, and although our boys

The boys representing South City were: Murray and Bonalanza (forwards), Bortoli (center), Aylsworth and Vaccari (guards) and Casey and Dunlap (guards).

ANOTHER VICTORY

Friday, January 12th, the unlimited basket-ball team traveled to San Mateo to play its second P. A. L. game.

The game was a very close one. The first quarter the score was 3-1 in San Mateo's favor, and at the end of the third quarter the score was 12-10 in South City's favor. The last quarter was very exciting, both teams playing their hardest.

When the whistle blew, the score was in our favor. We again had been victorious, the score being 19 to 6, showing that the game was a hard fight all the way through.

The unlimited girls' team will play two games this week on South City's court, which will decide the championship of the northern section.

The application of Joe Pacheco for permission to build a sleeping room in connection with his place of business at 96 Grand avenue was laid over.

The new city ordinance creating the office of building inspector was given a second reading and will be found in another column of today's Enterprise.

The continuing of the city's campaign of tree planting was brought up, and the board decided to proceed with the setting out of trees in another section of the city as has been done the last two springs.

At the same time Mr. Hynding, who broached the subject of more trees, urged that steps be taken to give all streets, sidewalks and parkings a thorough cleaning before the advertising campaign of the Chamber of Commerce starts, and it was decided that within a short time a gang of men would be started on the work. I. H. Potter, president of the bank, spoke on this subject. "Let us put the town in such apple-pie order that we will have nothing to apologize for," he urged.

After the passage of bills against the city treasury, adjournment was taken.

MANY OIL RIGS GOING UP ON THE COASTSIDE

There is considerable activity in the drilling for oil on the coast, according to reports. Sage and Oleson, who brought in a good well some weeks ago near Halfmoon Bay, are now building another rig on their lease, which makes three. A derrick has been built on the Armonda ranch, and drilling will start soon. J. Berger is drilling a new well on the Emerson ranch. The Halfmoon Bay Oil Company, lessees of the A. S. Hatch ranch, declare work on their first derrick will start within a week.

Double Surprise.

An Englishman who knew no language but his own had lost his way in Rome. In his perplexity it occurred to him to write the name of his hotel in large letters on his card and hand it to the first benign looking individual he met.

The Italian thus accosted turned, and, with the charming manner of his race, accompanied the perturbed Englishman for about twenty minutes in solemn silence until they reached the hotel designated.

In a transport of joy at finding himself once more on known ground the tourist poured out voluble thanks in the only language at his command.

At this the Italian looked at him in amazement, and remarked in perfect English:

"I thought you were deaf and dumb."—London Mail.

Reason for the Agitation.

"Either my eyes are acting funny or else there's something powerful wrong with yore house," said an acquaintance who had halted in the big road to stare at the Johnson domicile. "I reckon it must be my eyesight, but the doggone house 'pears to be shaking and shivering like it was going to tumble down."

"Aw, I reckon likely my fourteen children happen to have took a notion to scratch their chiggers at the same—p'tu—time," replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, Ark., who was hanging over his own front fence, hooked on by the elbows.—Kansas City Star.

Something Burning.

At a summer camp, two girls shared an upstairs sleeping porch.

One, never having been very far from the comforts of home, knew very little about some of the "wonders" of nature.

Waking one night, she became aware of a most unusual odor. Sitting up, she called out: "Mildred, Mildred, I smell something burning! I am going downstairs to see about it."

Experienced Mildred drawled: "Lie down, Betty, and go to sleep. That's nothing but a skunk."—Indianapolis News.

Inconsiderate.

As long as the grass in a Chicago public park is healthy and green the citizens seem to look upon it as some sort of garden and keep off of it as the signs command them. When it begins to die out, however, their respect for it instantly vanishes.

A man in a hurry started one day to cut across a yellow patch in the upper park, but was stopped by a policeman.

"What difference does it make?" demanded the citizen. "The grass is half dead already."

"Sure," said the indignant officer, "if you had a sick friend, would you be walkin' on his stomach?"—Harper's Magazine.

Following Suit.

An eminent London judge, who wrote a wretched hand, once sent a note to a friend among the lawyers seated at the barrister's table.

Not being able to make anything of it, the friend scribbled something absolutely undecipherable upon a half sheet of note paper and passed it up to the justice. The great man looked somewhat annoyed at it and said to his friend:

"What do you mean by this? I invited you to come and dine with me tonight?"

"Yes," said the lawyer, "and I replied that I should be delighted to do so."—Harper's Magazine.

Worth Remembering.

"Reggie," said old Goldbags, as he handed over a £20 banknote to his son, but still kept hold of one corner of it as he delivered his homily, "Reggie, I don't want to stint you on spending money; whenever you go out with the boys—and girls—I want you to pay your share of the expenses, but—"

The old man stopped, then continued:

"But, Reggie, every once in a while I want you to remember that it takes £400 165 days, working day and night and Sundays, at 5 per cent to earn £20."

Important Discovery.

"What we want to discover," said counsel, "is who was the aggressor."

"Eh?" said the fierce-looking witness, doubtfully.

"Let me explain," said counsel patiently. "If I met you in the street and struck you in the face I should be the aggressor."

"No, no. You don't understand. If I struck you without provocation I should be committing an act of aggression."

"Excuse me, boss, you'd be committing suicide," declared the witness darkly.—Savannah News.

The Bored Landlord.

"According to the terms of this lease, I'm not permitted to have a phonograph in my apartment."

"That's correct," said the landlord, with a yawn.

"In a case like this, what becomes of personal liberty?"

"Spurlos versinkt," said the landlord. "Sign here."—Birmingham Age-Herald.
